Listen to Ven. Fulton Sheen preach about the meaning of the Mass and how we can enter more deeply into the source and summit of our faith.

“Always treat everyone, especially the most needy, with the utmost gentleness and kindness.”

We need regularly scheduled Adorers!

We hope to return to our regularly scheduled Adoration hours of 7:00 am - 8:00 pm.

Please prayerfully consider signing up for a Holy Hour at St. Clement. There is no better testimony of the fruits of Adoration than from the Saints:

“Even a quarter of an hour’s prayer in front of the Eucharist perhaps gains more graces than all the other spiritual exercises of the day outside of Mass.”

- St. Alphonsus Ligouri

“The love of God and neighbor, the greatest commandment, is expressed in and is the fruit of Eucharistic Worship.”

- Pope St. John Paul II

*Then I heard a loud voice in heaven say: “Now have salvation and power come,
and the kingdom of our God and the authority of his Anointed. For the accuser of our brothers is cast out, who accuses them before our God day and night. They conquered him by the blood of the Lamb and by the word of their testimony;
love for life did not deter them from death.

Reflection

In a recent homily, Fr. Paul addressed Jesus's remark to his home that 'no prophet is accepted in his native place.' His childhood neighbors are incensed, and try to throw him off a hill.

They want miracles, and all he gives them is His presence. And the pronouncement that he has fulfilled the reading from Isaiah:

'The Spirit of the Lord is upon me,
because he has anointed me
to bring glad tidings to the poor.'

All He gives them is His presence.

As Catholic Christians, we are Jesus's hometown buddies. Many of us grew up with the Sacraments, with the Eucharist (and if we didn't, how long does it take for familiarity to wipe the slate clean of wonder?).

But in Adoration, Jesus is fully and wholly present. Today He is with us.

Fr. Paul wondered if we all dismiss Jesus because He isn't doing mighty deeds today (seemingly). I wondered if I'm ever prone to throwing Jesus off a cliff – figuratively speaking – in my heart.

What if you could have been there when Jesus spoke in the synagogue that day (Luke 4:16-30)?

I want miracles, and all He gives me is His presence.

Why didn't his neighbors see that miracle? If I don't stop into see Jesus, am I forgetting the incredible miracle that today He's here, fulfilling all the promises since the beginning of time from a God who loves me?

FROM THE SAINTS: St. Michael the Archangel

St. Michael the Archangel is "one of the chief princes" (Dan. 10:13). He is the Chief Commander of the Army of God, and remains at the forefront of the spiritual battle against Satan. By the authority of Christ, he and his army of angels cast Satan out of Heaven at the beginning of time, and will play a similar role at the end of salvation history (Rev. 12:7). Charged with the task of guarding the gate of paradise (Gen. 3:24), St. Michael also calls us away from earth at the hour of our death to be welcomed into God's mercy.

Prayer

Saint Michael the Archangel, defend us in battle;
be our protection against the wickedness and snares of the devil.
May God rebuke him, we humbly pray:
and do thou, O prince of the heavenly host,
by the power of God,
cast into hell Satan and all evil spirits, who prowl about the world seeking the ruin of souls.
Amen.
